

Prof. P.K. Sahoo from the Department of Mathematics, BITS-Pilani, Hyderabad Campus Feature Among World Top 2% Scientists

Prof. P.K. Sahoo from the Department of Mathematics, BITS-Pilani Hyderabad Campus has been featured in a recent article by a famous analyst group of Stanford University published in the journal of PLOS Biology. The article has ranked world top 2 % scientists of various disciplines by considering numerous criteria, including citation, h-index, co-authorship adjusted hm-index, citation to papers in different authorship positions and several composite indicators. The research work led by Prof. Sahoo has been highlighted in the field of Nuclear & Particle Physics. The recognition via the quantification of the scientific merit through a world-wide database is indeed inspiring. Congratulations to Prof. Sahoo for the research endeavour, and for representing BITS-Pilani in a worldwide platform of innovative research.
